Agricultural districts include uses of land primarily for active farming operations resulting in odors, noise, dust and other effects, which are not usually compatible with adjacent single family, multi-family and some commercial developments.

Future abutting development in non-agricultural land use districts shall be provided with a "Notice of Adjacency" affidavit: (1) at the time a rezoning application to a district other than an agricultural district; (2) prior to application for a building or occupancy permit for property adjacent to an AI district.

Prior to administrative action on either the land use rezoning or the issuance of a building occupancy permit, the applicant shall be required to sign a waiver form, prepared by the planning director, which states that the applicant understands that an agricultural operation is adjacent to their proposed use, and that this operation will produce odors, noise, dust and other effects which may not be compatible with the applicant's development. Nevertheless, understanding the effects of the adjacent AI district use, the applicant agrees by signing the form to waive any objection to those effects and understands that the proposed district rezoning and/or proposed building permits are issued based upon their agreement not to bring any action against local governments and adjoining landowners whose property is located in an AI district, by asserting that the adjacent uses in the AI district constitute a nuisance.

Following the execution of a "Notice of Adjacency" agreement, said agreement shall be component of the deed of the adjacent property and shall be honored as property ownership is transferred or until the use in the AI district is no longer in existence. Any such notice or acknowledgement provided to or executed by a landowner adjoining a tract in an AI district shall be a public record.

In order for an existing poultry or livestock operation to receive the "Notice of Adjacency" protection in the agriculture intensive (AI) district, it must first have qualified for the preferential agriculture assessment (or the conservation easement assessment) in accordance with the Official Code of Georgia Annotated (O.C.G.A. § 48-5-7.1).

ARTICLE XIII. PUD—PLANNED UNIT DEVELOPMENT

Sec. 59-1300. Purpose and intent.

The planned unit development is designed to:

- (1) Encourage the development of tracts of land as planned neighborhoods, communities, or mixed-use developments;
- (2) Encourage flexible and creative concepts in site planning in cooperation with the Board of Commissioners;
- (3) Preserve the natural amenities of the land by encouraging scenic and functional open areas within residential areas, while at the same time, supporting the growth of the community through proper planning and procedure;
- (4) Accomplish a more desirable environment than would be possible through the strict application of minimum requirements of the other articles of this chapter;
- (5) Provide for the efficient use of land resulting in smaller networks of utilities and streets and thereby lower development and housing costs;
- (6) Provide an environment of stable character compatible with surrounding residential areas.
- (7) A particular emphasis to PUD zoning designations is given to the areas of Stephens County in which utilities have been placed for future growth, including along the Toccoa Bypass.

Sec. 59-1301. Requirements.

- (a) A planned unit development must contain a minimum of five contiguous acres.
- (b) A planned unit development is to be planned, developed, operated, and maintained as a single entity (whether by a single owner or under unified control) containing one or more structures to accommodate residential and commercial uses, or an appropriate mix thereof, and appurtenant common areas and other uses incidental to the predominant uses.

- (c) All planned unit developments shall meet the following standards:
- (1) The development shall be compatible with the topography of the land and shall preserve any unusual natural features.
 - (2) The development shall not adversely affect developed or undeveloped neighboring properties.
 - (3) The development shall utilize design features that would not be possible under traditional, Euclidean-style zoning regulations.
 - (4) The development shall have adequate and properly arranged vehicular and pedestrian traffic access, convenience, safety, and design.

 - (6) The development shall preserve all architectural, scenic, historic, or natural areas currently existing within the bounds of the property.

 - (8) The development shall be included within private deed covenants running with the land to assure continuance of the development in accordance with the approved plans.
 - (9) Any changes from the plans at any time must be reviewed by the planning department and approved by the Board of Commissioners before project implementation.

Sec. 59-1302. Development plan.

- (a) An applicant shall file a petition within the county planning department for approval of a planned unit development. This application shall be supported by a development plan and written summary of intent, and shall show the relation between the proposed development and the surrounding area, both existing and proposed. The site plan shall be prepared by a competent designer and shall be of sufficient detail to ensure compliance with this section. In addition, the applicant shall submit other necessary information to ensure compliance with the provisions of this chapter. Any special studies recommended or required by county staff shall also be provided.
- (1) The proposed planned unit development may depart from strict conformance with the requirements of zoning and subdivision requirements to the extent specified in the master development plan and documents authorizing the development so long as tangible benefits are provided to the neighborhood or community in which it is located. These benefits shall be in the form of provisions of exceptional amenities, design excellence, etc. Departure from any requirement specified in this article or other county ordinances and regulations is a privilege, and shall be granted only upon recommendation of the planning commission and approval by the Board of Commissioners, as applicable in this article. Requested variances from the zoning ordinance shall be listed out to ensure full clarity.

(c) Approval:

(1) An application for approval of a planned unit development will be considered as a petition for rezoning and will be subject to the procedures established in the Code of Ordinances and under the State Zoning Procedures Act.

(2) If the development plan is approved, the county will cause the official zoning map to be changed to indicate the planned unit development. If the plan is approved with modifications, the applicant shall file written notice of consent to the modifications and a properly revised site plan shall be filed with the county prior to changing the zoning map. No building permits shall be issued until the development plan has been approved as required by the land use ordinance of the county.

Gross acreage shall exclude areas reserved or dedicated for street rights-of-way. An overall higher density may be allowed provided the applicant can show that such higher density will not be detrimental to the surrounding neighborhood. Unless topographical or other barriers protect the privacy of existing adjoining uses, the county commission may impose one or both of the following requirements:

(1) Structures or buildings located at the perimeter of the development shall be set back a sufficient distance to protect the privacy and amenities of adjacent existing uses.

- (c) If the Board of Commissioners, after applying the evidence to the standards of review and conditions, have been convinced that the allowance of the conditional use will promote the health, safety, morals, or general welfare of the county, a conditional use permit may be granted, subject to those provisions that may be imposed by the Board of Commissioners.

Sec. 59-1608. Criteria to consider for conditional uses.

The applicant, staff, Planning Commission and Board of Commissioners should review applications for conditional uses with regard to the following criteria, in addition to other standards and criteria set forth in this chapter:

The petitioner, or his designated agent, shall be required to attend the public hearing unless written notice of hardship is received prior to such meeting. Failure of the petitioner or agent to attend the public hearing or meeting, except in cases of hardship, may be due cause for dismissal or denial of such application. A time limitation may be imposed at the discretion of the chairman.
- (4) Persons who oppose the application will be asked to comment next. All interested parties after being recognized shall be afforded an opportunity to address the proposed application by standing before the appropriate body and identifying their name, address and interest, along with any comments on the proposed application. A time limitation may be imposed at the discretion of the chairman.
- (5) The petitioner shall have an opportunity for summary remarks and rebuttal concerning the proposed application.
- (6) Upon completion of any comments from interested parties and the petitioner, the public hearing shall be completed and adjourned.
- (7) All public comments having been heard, the members of the body considering the application may discuss the request among themselves. During this discussion period, the members of the body may call on the petitioner or other interested parties to clarify points made previously or to answer questions. Said petitioner or interested parties may respond upon recognition.
- (8) The public hearing procedures as adopted by the board of commissioners shall be made available to all parties and the public by requesting a copy from the clerk of the Board of Commissioners.

The Board of Commissioners, after the public hearing has been completed, may take action to approve or deny the request, or defer action until a later meeting.

Sec. 59-1614. Conditional approval permitted.

The planning director and Planning Commission may recommend, and the Board of Commissioners may approve, applications for map amendments and conditional use permits, subject to certain conditions, provided that said conditions are set forth in the ordinance regarding approval of such application. Said conditions of approval may reduce the number or type of permitted uses, limit the nature or scope of permitted uses, restrict certain activities on the property, restrict the number and kind of improvements which can be made on the property, stipulate specific acts which the property owner will perform or any other conditions directly related to the physical use of land and which are designed to render the proposed land use or use compatible with nearby properties. Applications for alteration or extension of conditional districting shall be made in accordance with the requirements of this article.

Sec. 59-1615. Standards of review.

- (a) In ruling on any matter herein in which the exercise of discretion is required, or in ruling upon any application for zoning map amendment, the planning director, Planning Commission or Board of Commissioners shall act in the best interest of the health, safety, morals, and general welfare of the county. In doing so, they will consider one or more of the following factors, in addition to other factors and criteria set forth in this chapter, as they may be relevant to the application:
- (1) The existing land use pattern;
 - (2) The possible creation of an isolated district unrelated to adjacent and nearby districts;
 - (3) The population density pattern and possible increase or overtaxing of the load on public facilities including, but not limited to, schools, utilities, and streets;
 - (4) The cost of the county and other governmental entities in providing, improving, increasing or maintaining public utilities, schools, streets and other public safety measures;
 - (5) The possible impact on the environment, including, but not limited to, drainage, soil erosion and sedimentation, flooding, air quality and water quantity;
 - (6) Whether the proposed zoning map amendment will be a deterrent to the value or improvement of development of adjacent property in accordance with existing regulations;
 - (7) Whether there are substantial reasons why the property cannot be used in accordance with existing regulations;
 - (8) The aesthetic effect of existing and future use of the property as it relates to the surrounding area;
 - (9) The extent to which the proposed zoning map amendment is consistent with the land use plan;
 - (10) The possible effects of the proposed zoning map amendment on the character of a zoning district, a particular piece of property, neighborhood, a particular area, or the community;
 - (11) The relation that the proposed zoning map amendment bears to the purpose of the overall zoning scheme, with due consideration given to whether or not the proposed change will help carry out the purposes of these zoning regulations;
 - (12) Applications for a zoning map amendment which do not contain specific site plans carry a rebuttable presumption that such rezoning shall adversely affect the zoning scheme;
 - (13) The consideration of the preservation of the integrity of residential neighborhoods shall be considered to carry great weight;
 - (14) In those instances in which property fronts on a major thoroughfare and also adjoins an established residential neighborhood, the factor of preservation of the residential area shall be considered to carry great weight.
- (b) After hearing evidence at the zoning hearing, the Board of Commissioners shall apply the evidence to the standards of review in making their decision. It will not be required that the Board of Commissioners consider every criteria contained in the standards of review. It shall be the duty of the applicant to carry the burden of proof that the proposed zoning map amendment promotes the public health, safety, morality or general welfare.

- (c) If the Board of Commissioners determine from the evidence presented that the applicant has shown that the proposed zoning map amendment promotes the health, safety, morals and general welfare under the standards of review, then the application shall be granted, subject to those reasonable provisions as may be imposed by Board of Commissioners as provided in this chapter. Otherwise, such application shall be denied.
 - (d) In ruling on any petition in which the petitioner has brought a challenge of the existing zoning classification, the Board of Commissioners may impose upon such property any appropriate zoning classification, which might be consistent with the considerations contained in [subsection] (a) above.

Sec. 59-1616. Reversion of conditional districting and/or conditional use approval.

If, after 24 months from the date the Board of Commissioners approves a map amendment or conditional use permit, action has not been taken to utilize the property, pursuant to such conditions, such as securing a development permit, the approval shall expire. The Board of Commissioners shall, by official action, cause the conditional use approval to expire or the land use district to revert to the district classification assigned to the property immediately prior to the approval.

The planning director shall notify all property owners in question of pending action to rescind or revoke approvals, and such notice shall be by certified mail, dated at least 15 days prior to the date of the Board of Commissioner's scheduled meeting and directed to the owner's address as it appears on the tax rolls of the Board of Commissioners.

Prior to notification by the planning director of any reversion of approval, the owner of the property in question may petition the Board of Commissioners for a modification or extension of land use or conditional use approval. Any such extension shall valid for 24 months from the date of approval. Only one such extension shall be permitted.

Sec. 59-1617. Approval required by appropriate body.

Applications for amendments to the text of the land use protection regulations, land use district map amendments, alterations or extensions of conditional districting and conditional use permits require approval by the Board of Commissioners before development may be initiated or before such application is made effective. Applications for variances and appeals shall require approval by the Board of Commissioners before development may be initiated or before such application is made effective.

Sec. 59-1618. Procedure for approved land use protection resolution text amendments.

The date of all approved amendments to the text of this chapter may be indicated on the title/cover page of the text, and any sections within this resolution text hereafter amended or repealed shall be so indicated by an asterisk (*, , , etc.) and concurring footnote providing the date such amendment was approved. All such text amendments shall be incorporated within the text without unreasonable delay.

Sec. 59-1619. Criteria for requiring screens and buffers.

Where noise, visual effects or distracting activity is determined by the Planning Commission to affect adjacent property or roadway, a vegetative screen, cement or masonry wall, or earth berm may be required by the planning commission to reduce the undesirable effects. In deciding if such screens and buffers are necessary the planning commission shall consider the following criteria and factors:

- (1) The nature of the adjoining use;
- (2) The size of the property being considered for screens and buffers;

- (3) The existence of any light, noise, odor or other impact caused by the property being considered for screens and buffers;
 - (4) Screens and buffers can be required as a permit condition for a conditional use permit or variance application; and
 - (5) Any factors herein for consideration of conditional use permits.

Sec. 59-1807. Variances.

The Board of Commissioners is hereby empowered to authorize upon application in specific cases such variance from the term of this resolution as will not be contrary to the public interest where, owing to special conditions, a literal enforcement of the provisions of this chapter will, in an individual case, result in unnecessary hardship, so that the spirit of this chapter shall be observed, public safety and welfare secured, and substantial justice done. This existence of a nonconforming use of neighboring land, buildings or structures in the same land use district or of permitted or nonconforming uses in other districts shall not constitute a reason for the requested variance. A variance may be granted in an individual case of unnecessary hardship, after appropriate application in accordance with article XVI upon specific findings that all of the following conditions exist. The absence of any one of the conditions shall be grounds for denial of the application for variance.

 - (2) A literal interpretation of the provisions of these land use protection regulations would create an unnecessary hardship and would deprive the applicant of rights commonly enjoyed by other property owners within the district in which the property is located; and
 - (3) Granting the variance requested will not confer upon the property of the applicant any special privileges that are denied to other properties of the district in which the applicant's property is located; and
 - (4) Relief, if granted, will be in harmony with the purpose and intent of this resolution and will not be injurious to the neighborhood or general welfare in such a manner as will interfere with or discourage the appropriate development and use of adjacent land and buildings or unreasonably affect their value; and
 - a. The special circumstances are not the result of the actions of the applicant;
 - b. The variance requested is the minimum variance that will make possible the legal use of the land, building or structure; and
 - c. The variance is not a request to permit a use of land, building or structures which are not permitted by right in the district involved.

Applications for variances shall require review and recommendation by the planning commission.

Sec. 59-1808. Conditional approval permitted.

In exercising the powers to grant appeals and approve variances, the board may attach conditions to its approval which it finds necessary to accomplish the reasonable application of the requirements of this chapter.

In exercising its powers, the Board of Commissioners may, in conformity with the provisions of this chapter, reverse or affirm, wholly or partly, or may modify the order, requirement, decision or determination, and to that end shall have all of the powers of the administrative officer and building official and may issue or direct the issuance of a permit.
